The Service Manager for Archives presented the report highlighting areas of good progress, the reduction of costs due to membership of the digital preservation consortium, pressing challenges for 2020, engagement undertaken across a variety of organisations and communities, engagement with Exeter University and the future signing of a Memorandum of Understanding with them, the closure to allow for new shelving to be installed, Local Government Reorganisation and implications for the archives and institutional memory, a request for members to encourage their councils to support paper and digital records in order to protect the institutional memories of the previous sovereign councils, only material which met the criteria was accepted for archive, the importance of the Dorset Archives Trust and other charities for fund raising, the capital project update, and the limited space available for future archiving and ongoing local authority discussions around the costs and funding to address this.
