Report Status: Public

Brief Summary: To prepare Dorset Council for the implementation of the Armed Forces Act 2021 which creates a legal obligation for the Council to have 'due regard' to the three principles of the Armed Forces Covenant (AFC). This is the Armed Forces Covenant Duty. This report sets out a summary of this duty.

Additionally, having briefly reviewed current available Dorset Council policies covered by it, indicate what actions may need addressing prior to the legislation being enacted.

Recommendation:

1. Note the new legal obligations
2. To support the inclusion of the requirements of the Armed Forces Act 2021 within the development of new policies and the review of current policies.

Reason for Recommendation:

To ensure legal compliance

1. The Armed Forces Covenant Duty

1.1 The Armed Forces Act 2021 amends the Armed Forces Act 2006 to create a legal obligation on relevant bodies, when exercising relevant statutory functions, to have due regard to the three principles of the Armed Forces Covenant (AFC). This is the Armed Forces Covenant Duty.

1.2 Three principles of the AFC

- The unique obligations of, and sacrifices made by, the Armed Forces;
- The principle that it is desirable to remove disadvantages arising for service people from membership, or former membership, of the Armed Forces; and
- The principle that special provision for Service People may be justified by the effect on such people of membership, or former membership, of the Armed Forces.

1.3 The new duty will apply to specified persons or bodies, including councils, when exercising certain housing, education or healthcare functions (excluding social care). The private sector is not in scope. When such a body develops, implements or reviews a relevant policy, or makes decisions on its delivery of relevant services, it must consider the Covenant principles. Namely, whether the Armed Forces Community experiences disadvantages, attributable to the unique obligations and sacrifices of service life, that can be removed, and whether special provision is merited. The Duty is not prescriptive about the actions bodies should take in order to comply, and it does not mandate specific public service delivery outcomes or advantageous treatment of the Armed Forces Community.

1.4 The Act received Royal Assent in December 2021 and now requires the Secretary of State for Defence to lay draft statutory guidance before Parliament. It is understood that the Ministry of Defence intends to commence the due regard duty by December 2022 (amended from the planned Summer of 2022 on the 10th February 2022) and that the statutory guidance will be published ahead of that to give councils time to prepare for its implementation. Additionally, to support its implementation, there will be guaranteed resources including an eLearning package and a comms/PR/awareness package. We are expecting to receive a third draft of the statutory guidance imminently for final comment; to be published in final by the summer.

1.5 Most councils have voluntarily signed the Armed Forces Covenant. Dorset Council signed in July 2019. The Act's further enshrinement of the Covenant into law is an opportunity to build upon work we are already leading to help serving personnel, veterans, and their families to have the same equality of access to public services as their civilian neighbours. The forthcoming statutory guidance will enable us to fully understand the implications of the due regard duty for councils. We expect the guidance to contain advice and good practice examples about how bodies might comply the duty.

2. A summary of the functions in scope of the Covenant Duty

2.1 The Covenant Duty applies to specific functions within the fields of healthcare, education, and housing services. These are key areas where disadvantages to members of the Armed Forces Community have commonly arisen. The focus of the legislation is on local – and, as appropriate, regional – provision of these services.

Healthcare	Education	Housing
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Provision of services • Quality of services • Funding • Co-operation between health bodies and professionals • Functions concerning additional needs that healthcare bodies have a role in delivering. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Admissions • Transport • Attendance • Additional Needs support • Educational attainment and curriculum • Student Wellbeing • Use of Pupil premium 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Allocations policy for social housing • Homelessness • Disabled facilities grants • Tenancy strategies (England only)

2.2 More detail on the specific functions in appendix 1

2.3 The MOD have published 2 connecting draft strategies in support of the Armed Forces Act 2021:

- Office for Veterans Affairs (OVA) – Veterans Strategy Action Plan 2022-2024
- MOD – UK Armed Forces strategy 2022-2032

3. Practical steps we can take to get ready for the Act

3.1 Whilst the forthcoming statutory guidance will set out the detailed requirements for councils to implement the due regard duty, the LGA have set out some practical steps that Dorset Council can take now to start to get ready for the anticipated commencement of the duty at the end of this year:

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Raise awareness about the forthcoming due regard duty, and the anticipated implementation timeframe, with colleagues in housing, education and healthcare services, and with external partners from other in-scope organisations
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Convene initial local discussions, pending the publication of the statutory guidance, about the potential impact of the due regard duty on relevant council functions to identify potential gaps / areas to strengthen in local policies, processes and procedures across housing, education and health care 	√
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Identify potential training needs for frontline council staff working in housing, education and healthcare services – please note that the e-learning modules for councils developed by the Coventry, Solihull and Warwickshire Armed Forces Covenant partnership are being updated to take account of the duty.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Participate in regional discussions about getting ready for the due regard duty that may be happening at regional Armed Forces Covenant Partnerships 	√
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Record costs that we may incur getting ready for the introduction of the Act and share these with the LGA to feed into the ongoing new burdens work
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Identify potential learning from the local introduction of other similar duties, such as the Public Sector Equality Duty
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Join the LGA's Armed Forces Officer Covenant Network to hear latest updates from the Ministry of Defence, help shape the national statutory guidance and share learning with other councils. The AFC Programme coordinator also represents the SW on the LGA Regional AFC Group. 	√

4 Financial Implications

4.1 There is no new government funding attached to the Act. We, like many South West Councils have indicated to the MOD that we will incur costs to get ready for and implement the new duty. The MOD has committed to review potential new burdens costs for councils one year after the commencement of the duty.

4.2 It is worth noting that the Armed Forces Programme co-ordinator is a fixed term pan Dorset post until 31st March 2024 due to external MOD funding.

5 Climate Implications

5.1 No known implications

6 Well-being and Health Implications

6.1 Delivering these new legal obligations should have a positive impact on Dorset's Armed Forces serving personnel, their families and the veteran community.

6.2 It is worth noting the Adults and Children's social care is not currently included in the proposed legislation, however there are plans to include these at a later date

7 Other Implications

7.1 No other known implications

8 Risk Assessment

8.1 HAVING CONSIDERED: the risks associated with this decision; the level of risk has been identified as:

Current Risk: Low

Residual Risk: Low

9 Equalities Impact Assessment

9.1 This new legislation seeks to actively remove disadvantage and, in some cases, consider whether special provision is merited. An EqlA will need to be completed.

9.2 The Armed Forces Community are currently a local protected characteristic as determined within our Equality, Diversity and Inclusion strategy and action plan.

As part of their commitment to obtaining the silver award, there will be a campaign in the 2020 to encourage employees to advise if they are veterans and/or reservists. There is also a need to link with other policies/initiatives such as flexible working and family friendly which can help employees. Dorset Council anticipates that this will be a positive impact, as military families/veterans are included in our EqlA template as a local characteristic, this is to ensure we give due regard to local issues. An EqlA is a process designed to ensure that any new or changing policies, projects, plans and strategies does not discriminate against people with protected characteristics. In addition, this group will also have other protected characteristics, and the Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy provides the framework to ensure compliance with the Equality Act 2010 and Public Sector Equality Duty.'
